PARTNERSHIP FIRM FORMATION

A Partnership is a form of organization wherein two or more individuals/corporates agree to set up a business and agree to share ownership, as well as the profit of the business by entering into an agreement. Partnership firms are governed by the Indian Partnership Act, 1932.

Benefits of setting up a Partnership firm:

(What are the benefits of setting up a Partnership Firm?)

1. Setting up a Partnership rm is comparatively less expensive than setting up a Company.
2. As compared to a sole proprietorship concern, a Partnership rm has a separate legal entity.
3. Partnership rms have less legal compliances.
4. The functions, activities and working of the rm can be mutually decided by the partners.

Points to be considered while setting up a Partnership firm:

(Which factors should be considered when setting up a Partnership Firm?)

1. There should be at least 2 partners to set up a partnership firm.
2. The partners should be legally competent to enter into a contract and should be of the age 18 or above.
3. Place of business, business activity, purpose, name of firm and partners should be finalized before setting up of Partnership Firm.
4. Percentage of contribution, profit sharing of each partner should be decided.
5. Rights and responsibilities of each partner should be finalized.
6. Provisions for adding a new partner and exit of a partner should also be made.

7. Liabilities of partners are unlimited.
8. Every partner is liable for the debts or acts of the other partners. Which means that partners are jointly and severally (individually) liable for the partnership's debts i.e. a partner is jointly as well individually liable.
9. A Partnership firm has a less formal structure as compared to a Company.
10. All the terms and conditions of working of Partnership firm should be mutually decided by the Partners before entering into a Partnership Deed.
11. The final copy of the Partnership Deed should be kept in a secured place.

Registering Partnership firm:

(Why should you register your Partnership Firm?)

- It is advisable to register the partnership firm with the local registrar of firms as a registered firm enjoys the following advantages:
  a. Lending institutions prefer a registered Partnership Firm over a non-registered firm.
  b. The registered firm has legal rights in case of disputes.
  c. Organizations prefer to do business with a registered firm.
  d. As the partnership firm gets registered, the public at large will know the existence of the firm.
- While applying for registration, you have to remember that registration is a state-specific regulation. Which means that the process and documents required might change from state to state.

Steps to register a Partnership Firm (For the state of Maharashtra only).

(How to Register Partnership Firm in Maharashtra?)

- Create a user id and password on https://rof.mahaonline.gov.in and log in to the website.
- Select the option “Registration of Partnership firms”.
- Then an online application in Form No 1. is to be filed for registration of the firm.
- In the application, the applicant will have to specify the description of partnership firm i.e. details of partners, the business of the firm, etc.
- Once the application (i.e. Form no 1) is filled, it should be printed on a green ledger paper (a legal size green coloured paper) and it should be signed by all the partners.
- The above signed application should be submitted to the Registrar of Firms (RoF) office along with the required documents.
- After the application is submitted, the RoF department acknowledges the receipt of the application and then the application goes further for verification.
- If the department raises any objection, an objection letter is sent to the applicant on his email id.
- To clarify the objections, the applicant has an option to modify the original application on the website.
- After all the objections are cleared the applicant will receive a digitally signed copy of Certificate of Registration of Firm. It can be downloaded from the website.
